60 GRADUATE ON THURSDAY

Grammar School Exercises To Be Held At Gymnasium; Parking Routes Given

Placerville Grammar School will issue certificates of eighth grade graduation to a class of sixty candidates at exercises to be held on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the school gymnasium.

For the convenience of parents and patrons of the school who may be planning to attend, the school officials call attention to street improvement work which will make it impossible to park cars on the slopes of the grammar school hill. However, parking will be in order at the base of the hill, and at the large play area on top of the hill.

Those who drive to the school may reach the parking area at the top of the hill by driving to the junction of Coloma and Mill Streets, thence up Mill to Garden street, turn right, and follow Garden street around the brow of the hill to the parking area.

Also, the site may be reached via Union Street, Conrad and Circus Street.

The exercises will open with the entrance of the graduates following which the Rev. Rex A. Barron will speak the invocation. The advanced orchestra of the school will play "Sea Bubbles," featuring a trumpet solo by Allan Combelleck.

E. Ogden Hook, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will speak, following which the members of the graduating class who also are members of the school orchestra will offer a special selection.

Principal John H. Palmer will then present special certificates to pupils whose attendance records have been exceptional during the year and the diplomas will be presented to the graduating class by J. G. Leonard, of the school board of trustees.

A song of farewell by the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades, selections by the advanced orchestra and the benediction by the Rev. Father M. V. Myles will conclude the formal program.

The committee in charge announces that there is no restriction upon attendance and that any friends who will be interested in greeting Miss Moore and in hearing her speak are welcome to attend.

Miss Moore is widely traveled and is an interesting and enthusiastic speaker and members of the church are looking forward with interest to the opportunity to hear her tell something of the work of the church in the foreign field.

Fishing In Closed Water Draws Fine

Russell Cassinella and Chester Carlson were fined $25 each recently by Justice of the Peace Dwight Martin, at Al Tahoe, when they were found guilty of fishing in closed waters. Notations on the blotter at the county jail indicate the arrest was made by Game Warden Al Sears; and, presumably, the waters in which the men were fishing were the closed section of the Little Truckee. The Little Truckee is closed to fishing below the Luther Pass highway bridge.

Maryland Community Would Change Name

PUBLIC LANDING, Md. (AP) — A movement is under way to rename this 150-year-old Worcester county community.

Capt. Jack Lilliston, boatman and self-styled "mayor of Public Landing," suggests that an Indian name would be more appropriate.

The birth of a daughter, Melvina Aradoz, to Mr. and Mrs. Smeley Aradoz, of Coon Hollow, on May 27, is reported in a certificate of record Wednesday at the courthouse.

CALIFORNIA 4-H CLUBS ATTRACT NATIONAL ATTENTION

BERKELEY—More than a half-million boys and girls became members of the 4-H Agricultural Club last year, and 5,213 of them were in California, according to information received by Professor B. H. Crocherson, director of the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of California.

The country-wide enrollment has now reached the record figure of 1,286,029, according to this information, which came from the office of Dr. C. W. Warburton, national director of extension work in Washington. Of this number 11,669 are in California.

Approximately 7,500,000 young people on the farms have received the benefits of 4-H Club training since the movement started in 1914. Dr. Warburton said. Recent studies indicate that 40 per cent of the rural boys and girls of the country who reached the age for joining the 4-H Clubs were enrolled in the organization last year.

The club organization was formed for the purpose of raising the standards of farm and orchard production through carefully planned training of the farm children. Projects of many types are undertaken and last year three-fourths of these were completed by club members, establishing another record. The California club members completed 80 per cent of the projects in which they were enrolled.

The clubs in this state are sponsored cooperatively by the University's Agricultural extension service and the United States Department of Agriculture. Membership is made up of boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21.

R. S. EUER LAID AT LAST REST

White Rock Rancher Died On Monday; Services Wednesday

The funeral services for Robert S. Euer, well and favorably known cattleman of the White Rock district in the western section of the county, were held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the mortuary chapel at Folsom. Cremation followed at East Lawn.

A native and lifelong resident of the White Rock section, Mr. Euer was 59 years of age and a son of the late S. Euer, pioneer county cattleman, in whose footsteps he had followed in the industry for many years.

Since the retirement of R. S. Euer several years ago, the problems of ranch management have been carried on by his son, Bryce Euer. The deceased is survived by his mother, Mrs. Clara Euer, of Sacramento; his wife, Mrs. Josephine Euer, and a daughter, Mrs. Zelda Johnson, and his son, Bryce, all of White Rock. Two sisters, Mrs. Clara Wilson, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Lillie Sullivan, of San Francisco, and a brother, Frank Euer, of White Rock, also survive.

Many lifelong friends of the deceased attended the last rites and a profusion of beautiful floral pieces attested their high regard for the memory of their old friend.

ARCHDEACON TO WED AT HOSPITAL BEDSIDE ON THURSDAY

The plans for the marriage of Mrs. Kathleen Eaton, of Missouri Flat, and the Venerable Barr G. Lee, archdeacon of the Sacramento diocese of the Episcopal church, on Thursday, have been altered by force of circumstances.

The couple had planned a wedding ceremony at the Church of Our Saviour in Placerville. However, following announcement of their plans to wed, Mrs. Eaton's mother suffered a broken hip and is now a patient at a Sacramento hospital and the service will be performed Thursday morning at her bedside.

Bishop Noel Porter will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Rex A. Barron. Following the service at the bedside there will be a nuptial mass at the bishop's chapel.

HEAVY SMOKERS WARNED TRENCHMOUTH GERM EVER-PRESENT

PHILADELPHIA, (AP) — Persons who smoke or drink too much should guard constantly against trench mouth, according to Dr. Joseph R. Walsh, of East Orange, N. J. Dr. Walsh told the Philadelphia County Dental Society convention delegates that trench mouth, which may prove fatal in severe cases, attacks persons whose resistance is lowered by over-indulgence.

The spirochete responsible for the trench mouth disease is present in everyone's mouth, Dr. Walsh said, but it attacks only in cases of extreme lowered resistance or where the oral cavity is irritated chronically.

432 TOLL FOR HOLIDAY

Auto Crashes, Fires, Plane Wrecks Send Total Mounting

By UNITED PRESS

The number of violent deaths during the Memorial Day holiday increased toward the 500 mark today.

As the four-day period ended, 432 fatalities from automobile accidents, fires, plane crashes, drownings and shootings already had been reported. Reports from rural sections were adding to the total hourly.

The heaviest loss of life was on the highways. Motor vehicle accidents killed 209; ninety-four persons drowned and 129 others died from miscellaneous causes.

One-fourth of the deaths occurred in three states. New York had 38, 18 from motor accidents; California had 36, 23 from motor accidents; and Illinois had 36, 22 from motor accidents.

At Clinton, Okla., Mrs. Ida Watson, 34, fed strychnine to her five children and slashed her throat. One child died. The other children and the mother are seriously ill. Authorities believed she did it because her husband left her and the children and went to a ball game.

At Chicago, an 18-year-old girl was shot and killed by a private watchman at a fruit stand after she and some friends had taken a watermelon as a prank and played catch with it.

The automobile victims included Floyd Roberts, Van Nuys, Calif., race driver, who died from injuries suffered in a three-car smashup in the 27th Memorial Day 500-mile race at the Indianapolis speedway. Two other drivers and two spectators were injured.

Drownings included those of three boys near Jesup, Ia. They wandered into a deep hole while swimming and were swept downstream by swift current.

LEGISLATIVE SESSION MAY CONTINUE PAST JUNE 15TH

Budget Discussions Have Delayed Action On Balance Of Calendar; Amendment To State Welfare Act Voted By Assemblymen

By A. G. "SCOOP" THURMAN
Member of the Assembly, Sixth District

SACRAMENTO — Another week

has gone by and your legislators are still working day and night on their large calendar. And we might add also, working without pay.

The main reasons for the legislature being behind with its work are the budget, which is still under consideration, and the many controversial bills which require so much time for debate on the floor. The writer cannot see how the session can adjourn before about May 15th and it may be later.

Your assemblyman, with the aid of Assemblymen Kuchel, Carlson and Phillips successfully opposed a so-called peaceful picketing bill last week which, if passed, would have prevented any city or county from passing an anti-picketing ordinance. Our opposition was based on the right of the citizens of a city or county to govern themselves. The bill took away the right of home rule. The bill, AB 105, introduced by Assemblyman Rosenthal of Los Angeles, lost by a vote of 38 to 33. On a motion to reconsider the bill was again defeated, 38 to 35.

In opposing the bill, your assemblyman cited the labor disputes in Nevada County, instigated largely by outside radical labor agitators.

A bill in which all registered nurses of the district are interested, AB 620, known as the nursing practice act, which would set up a new state board of nursing examiners, passed the lower house last week by a vote of 60 to 2. The writer was happy to cast his vote in favor of the bill.

Your assemblyman was swamped with telegrams one morning last week, receiving 71 in all, as well as several letters and petitions. These telegrams and petitions came from state employees throughout the district opposing a bill which they believe will stop their salary adjustments.

A bill which will liberalize some of the features of the old age pension laws in the state was passed by the lower house last Friday. While no increase over the monthly payment of $35 was approved, the bill does eliminate some of the bad features of the present law. Many of the legislators would have been (Continued on Page 2)

MEMORIAL DAY SERVICE HELD

Spanish American War Veterans In Charge Of Arrangements

The observance of Memorial Day in Placerville and in the county generally followed the outline of the program which has been conducted for several years past. In the rural sections, exercises were held over the graves of veterans in various rural cemeteries on Sunday.

With stores, schools and principal offices in the community closed for the day, the community observance on Tuesday was formally inaugurated during the forenoon under arrangements instituted by the members of Hangtown Camp, Spanish American War Veterans.

A procession led by the county band and including members of veterans' organizations and other civic and fraternal groups, the Boy Scouts and pupils of the high school and grammar school, formed at War Veterans' Memorial building and marched to Union cemetery where Dr. L. J. Anderson was chairman of the day.

The program opened with the invocation by the Rev. Rex A. Barron, following which the band played "America" and Charles MacLaughlin, commander of the Spanish American War Veterans conducted the veterans' ceremony.

Dr. Anderson spoke briefly and Miss Helen Brander read the address of President Lincoln at Gettysburg. Rance MacFarland gave a vocal solo and Miss Inez Bongetta read the poem, "In Flanders Fields."

A selection by the band was heard prior to the introduction of Attorney T. S. Marlor, who was the speaker of the day. Mr. Marlor gave an interesting discussion on "The Folly of War." Following the benediction, spoken by the Rev. Father M. V. Myles, a firing squad from the American Legion post conducted military ceremonies. The procession then reformed and returned to the War Veterans' Memorial Building to disband.

Xmas Tree In Legislature Plans Begun

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—The California legislature, still moving at a snail's pace even though paychecks stopped ten days ago, today considered a resolution calling for appointment of a committee to purchase a Christmas Tree.

Authors of the resolution, Don Allen, D. Los Angeles, and Jeanette Daley, D. San Diego, explained the lawmakers probably would have occasion to use a Christmas tree if they continued at their present speed.

Vandenberg In G. O. P. Race

Michigan Senator Is Certain To Be Factor In Coming Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—A look at the record of Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R., Mich., who has revealed that he would accept the 1940 Republican presidential nomination with a one-term pledge, shows today that the backbone of his platform would be budget balancing, economy and a protective tariff.

It is a political certainty now that the Vandenberg-for-president movement will be a major factor in the 1940 pre-convention campaign. Today his name is bracketed with Senator Robert A. Taft, R., Ohio, and District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York as leading contenders.

Vandenberg has advocated Republican-Democratic coalition against the "Roosevelt party."

ROBERT WENTZ CLAIMED BY DEATH EARLY TUESDAY

Robert Wentz, 21, of Youngs District, died Tuesday morning at his home. The young man had been confined to bed for several days as the result of a sore throat and was resting easily late Monday evening. However, when members of the household went to his bedside early Tuesday morning, it was found he had passed on.

Deceased was the son of Bessie and Robert Wentz and a native of Diamond Springs. He attended school in his home community and also attended the county high school.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by four brothers, Fred, Don, Edward and Richard.

The funeral services will be held Thursday at 1:30 o'clock from Memory Chapel. Interment will be at Oak Hill cemetery.

A certificate on file Wednesday at the courthouse tells of the marriage on May 27 of James R. Butts, 24, and Anna Rose Tirapelle, 23, of Diamond Springs, in Placerville before the Rev. Father T. J. Hayes.

LIONS HONOR OLD MEMBERS

Club Elects Officers, Plans Installation On June 13th.

Past presidents of Placerville Lions "ran the show" Wednesday noon at an "Old Monarch's" meeting of the club which paid tribute to the veterans in membership and in community service.

Business of the meeting included the election of officers who will be installed at the club meeting on June 13th, which also will be a ladies night.

The election endorsed the report of the nominating committee and chose L. R. Armes, president; B. E. Larson, vice-president; Woodward Fox, second vice-president; Arthur Mart, secretary; Bert Pierroz Lion Tamer; Don Prouty and C. J. MacMurry, tail twisters; and C. J. Anderson and Thomas Maul, directors.

The meeting of the club for next week, Tuesday, June 6th, will be an evening meeting, being also the occasion of the annual meeting of the Donner Council of Lions. The ladies night-installation the week following will be the second evening meeting in succession.

Past President M. T. Kelly presided at this week's meeting and appointed Past President Max Baer as Lion Tamer, Past President Dr. W. A. Rantz, as secretary, and Past Presidents Joe Hearn and L. J. Anderson as tailtwisters.

Mrs. Evelyn Morey Chamberlain, former "sweetheart" of the club, returned for the meeting to her old post at the piano and Mrs. Gladys Steen, with Mrs. Ruby Wright as accompanist, was heard in two vocal solos.

Past President Thomas Maul gave a talk on Lionism in Placerville in which he paid tribute to the older members of the club, and especially those who have served the club in official capacities.

The secretary called the roll of ten-year members, charter members and past presidents of the club.

The blaze spreading rapidly in the stacks of lumber and wooden buildings, was one of the biggest and most spectacular in Manteca's history.

Firemen fought the flames most of the night and this morning before the fire was brought under control. Origin of the fire was not determined immediately.

Sports Parade

By HENRY McLEMORE

NEW YORK. (U)—Armed with a letter from his Pastor — his Bob Pastor—James Joy Johnston is taking a sort of galloping poll of this town to determine whether or not it is interested in ever seeing Joe Louis in a real prizefight.

James Joy Johnston, who is known to his intimates as the boy bandit, manages the New York heavy-weight, Pastor, and in his pocket has a letter from his man offering to meet Louis for the heavy-weight title, winner take all.

He thinks such a bout should be arranged immediately, before Louis dies of boredom from the steady and relentless diet of pushovers, ancients, round heelers, has-beens, and never-weres that are being fed him for one-round slaughter.

"That Louis is liable to keel right over in the ring some night from sheer—well, what shall we say?—ennui. What a bunch of bums they give him to fight."

At Mr. Johnston's mention of bums I spruced up and paid the rapt attention due a man speaking on a subject on which he is an authority, and Mr. Johnston yields to no man in his knowledge of the boxfight bum. He has managed some of the finest of them, including the swooning swan of Soho, Phil Scott, and can trace the bum right back to his beginning.

In his discussion of the subject Mr. Johnston reeled off a list of Louis' recent opponents, and closed with a stirring discussion of the demerits of Toni Galento. He flatly stated that given 15 minutes in which to train, he, Johnston, could flatten Galento. He spoke almost as disparagingly of Baer and questioned that he was in the throes of a comeback.

"A comeback from where?" Johnston asked from beneath the derby he has worn since he was a child of four, romping with carefree abandon on the docks of Liverpool. "Where was he ever at to start a comeback from?"

The grammatical construction of this last sentence all but tied him up, but he extricated himself and went on:

"There are only two fighters in the world today—Louis and Pastor. Louis and Pastor. Louis is the hardest hitter, perhaps he is the hardest hitter who ever lived, but he never would hit the Pastor of today. You should of seen him against Roscoe Toles in Detroit. Surprised even me, and that's saying something. You wouldn't know him as the same boy who fought Louis two years ago. He was just beginning then, didn't know half of what he does now, but he lasted 10 rounds and never was in danger."

But he didn't fight that way now — just retreated from corner to corner, rope to rope—we reminded Mr. Johnston.

"What's wrong with that? Is there a law compelling a man to fight Louis the way Louis wants him to? That is, charge in and mix it. Besides, if Louis was the great fighter everyone believes him to be why didn't he catch Pastor and belt him out? Toles ran from Bob, but Bob cornered him and beat the daylights out of him. The proof that Pastor is a fighter is the way Louis evades all mention of a fight with him. He wants no part of Bob. Still, I don't suppose you can blame a champion from dodging a fellow who can lick him as long as promoters fill his pockets with money for fighting bums who couldn't qualify for first class scarecrows. Let me tell you. . . .

I slipped through a trap door that Mr. Johnston has thoughtfully provided for the escape of his guests, and made my way out onto the street.

NEWSPAPER REPORTER HAS "ROYAL AUDIENCE" IN SHORTS

BANFF, Canada. (U)—An incident of the visit here of King George and Queen Elizabeth best remembered concerned the appearance before their majesties at a hotel swimming pool of Webb Miller, United Press correspondent, clothed only in a pair of trunks several sizes too small for him.

Miller, accompanying the royal tour, borrowed the trunks from the hotel and thought their size did not matter since no one else was in the pool. After a plunge, he was standing on the side of the pool, dripping, when a door opened nearby and the queen stepped out onto the terrace, closely followed by the king and a Scotland Yard man. Their majesties looked at Miller and Miller looked at their majesties. The queen flushed, then laughed. The king looked stern and the Scotland Yard man looked sterner — and Miller dived.

NOTORIOUS "BERTHA" OF PICKPOCKET INFAMY IS DEAD

LINCOLN, Neb. (U)—"Painting Bertha" Luebbecke, who achieved notoriety as one of the most accomplished women pickpockets of the Middle West, is dead.

She died at the State Mental Hospital here where she had lived in obscurity for more than 20 years. Prior to her detention, she had been a problem to every police department in this section. She was about 70.

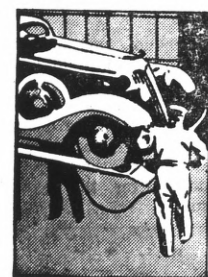

"Painting Bertha" developed her own technique. Her specialty, which she would perform as many as a dozen times a day, was to swoon when a well-dressed man or woman was nearby. The first person to reach her discovered after she had gone that they had lost their wallets, watches or stickpins.

LUMBER WORKER CALLED BY DEATH AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Clarence M. Phelps, for twelve years past employed in the lumbering industry in this county, died early Wednesday at a hospital in Placerville following a long illness. Mr. Phelps had been a hospital patient for some time past and his death came following an amputation of one limb, which had been decided upon in the hope of relieving his affliction.

Although he was given every attention, his condition proved to be such that he was unable to survive. Deceased was born January 9, 1893 and reported to hospital officials that he was born in an orphanage and never knew his parents. He has no known surviving relatives.

He is reported as being a veteran of the World War and the American Legion has begun plans to hold funeral services on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock from Memory Chapel with interment at the city cemetery.

Dr. and Mrs. H. O. Lovell were here from Jackson over the week-end visiting friends.

NEW AIRBOAT TESTED SECRETLY CAN FLY 10,000 MILES NON-STOP; 25-TON PLANE HAS ESTIMATED SPEED OF 275 MILES

SAN DIEGO, (AP)—Day and night guards watch the secret 52-passenger flying boat developed by Consolidated Aircraft to cross the Atlantic in less than 15 hours and said to be capable of a 10,000 mile cruising range.

Although officials described the plane as a "commercial experimental" ship and not of military design, U. S. military officials were given access to the plans, and Navy Department attaches evidenced great interest in its possibilities as a long-range bomber, asking that construction details be kept secret.

Several new principles of design are included in the radically constructed ship. Two of these, the 100-foot Davis "perfect curve" wing and the two, 2000 horsepower Wright 18-cylinder engines, are closely guarded secrets.

The "perfect" wing was invented by David R. Davis, former partner of Donald Douglas, plane manufacturer, from a formula evolved after 10 years of experimenting.

Speed increases of 20 per cent are attributed by engineers to the use of the Davis wing, which is capable of lifting and carrying the 25-ton plane at an estimated 275 miles an hour for non-stop distances up to 10,000 miles.

Slight Hope For Safety Of 'Flivver Flyer'

LONDON, (AP)—The only remaining hope for Thomas Smith, the American youth who took off from Old Orchard Beach, Me., in a 65 horsepower airplane Sunday on a projected transatlantic flight, was that he might have landed alongside some small ship that had no radio to report his rescue.

NEW PEAR MATURITY TEST LEADS TO RESEARCH AT DAVIS BRANCH

DAVIS.—The present tests of pear maturity for shipment, pressure and color, are to be augmented this year by a third, a test of soluble solids. This was decided at a meeting of growers held on the Davis campus of the University of California last week, and the Legislature will, it is believed, amend the present law to include the new test.

Growers in many localities have complained that the 23-pound pressure test is not fair, pointing out that pears in various localities vary in firmness even at the same degree of maturity. Even in the same location, pears on Japanese root as nearly ripe as those on French root, are much firmer. Last year a federal ruling dropped the test to 21 pounds but this was unsatisfactory. Color also is used, but again is not an accurate indication of maturity.

It is believed the test, showing the percentage of soluble solids, mostly sugar, will solve the problem. Temporarily the percentage has been set at 13. An indicator shows the percentage merely by using a drop of pear juice and reading the scale.

However, to make the test more nearly accurate, the pomology division of the College of Agriculture will conduct a two-year experiment under the direction of F. W. Allen, whose research is responsible for the pressure test.

Simple Memorial Day Rite Declared Most Impressive

(The following appeared May 29 in The Los Angeles Times in the "Sacramento Mailsack," weekly column conducted by Chester G. Hansen, The Times' staff correspondent to the state Legislature);

Dear Editor:

It was the Sunday before Memorial Day and we were out for a day of fishing—a breathing spell from the oratory and wrangling of the Legislature. Our head was full of trout and flies and directions as to likely fishing spots.

We were driving along a mountain road approaching the little village of Georgetown some 50 miles northeast of Sacramento.

Suddenly, coming to the crest of a slight rise in the road as we coasted easily down a rolling grade, we beheld not far distant a little company of people coming up the road toward us.

The bright living colors of the American flag gayly dotted in the morning sunlight. Against the background of near-by green fields, the surrounding hills and mountains covered with pines, a brilliant blue sky with here and there a billowy white cloud, the flag moving up the road at the head of a little band of men, women and children was something to behold.

The village we were approaching lies in a shallow mountain basin, and the setting is as though some artist or stage director had conceived it. The flag and the people bearing it away from the village impelled us to pull to the side of the road just before we reached a wooden culvert over a tiny creek.

Awaiting the procession we looked about us and realized that we had been just about to pass the village cemetery on the hillside along the road. It was a cemetery that reached so far back into history of the community that it probably had been known for years and generations as a graveyard. It had the traditional arch of scrolled ironwork supported by iron columns at the gateway.

In the cemetery a few family plots or single graves were marked off with venerable iron picket fences. As though blossoming from the ground here and there, were new little American flags marking the graves of soldiers.

It dawned on us that the procession was bound for the cemetery to hold their Memorial Day services. Up the road they marched. There were a few more than a score of men, women and a few older children. At the head was the color-bearer. Immediately behind him a corporal's guard of veterans. They wore the blue trench cap of the American Legion, white shirts and dark civilian trousers. They carried rifles.

Behind the veterans were a few older, and then a handful of wives of the veterans in light-print dresses. And behind them the youngsters. A dog brought up the rear, trotting along depreciously as befitted the occasion.

The road is not heavily traveled and ours was the only car in sight. The village has, I imagine, not more than 500 inhabitants. Mining, timber and cattle activities explain its presence.

As the procession crossed the culvert and passed within an arm's length of us, we doffed our hat to the colors. The color guard cast a glance at us and his bronzed face bore a friendly look. There was just the hint of a nod from the men.

Tramp, tramp, tramp, they moved on with dignity. In a moment or two they had passed. The boys, we thought, had a sort of snap-into-it air as they approached our position. That was the only gesture of formality.

We sat in silence for a moment debating an urge to get out of the car, follow the procession to the graveyard and participate in the services. But such a move, we concluded, would have been too much like the intrusion of a stranger in a personal, sacred rite. These men and women were making a pilgrimage to the graves of their dead.

This, then, was a Memorial Day "parade" as presented by the people of the mountain village. It was all so simple and so genuine that it took us some time to grasp the full significance of it.

In the great cities throughout the nation tomorrow thousands upon thousands of men in uniform—entire regiments of them will be ready.

Bugles will blow. Commands will roar out.

"Attention. Forward March!"

Bands will blare and the canyons of downtown streets will roar and echo with music and the tramp of marching feet. There will be oratory and applause from Washington to Seattle.

But nowhere will the scene be more impressive than out on that mountain road bordered with the nodding blue lupine and the California poppy, in the shadow of the snowy peaks and forested mountains.

In the mountain valleys they march to the same purposes, but without the incentive of cheering throngs and the inspiration of military bands.

The only sound on that day as they passed was the light tread of their own feet.

Nothing but the tread of their own feet to disturb their reflections as they walk from the village to the graveyard in the company of friends and neighbors on Memorial Day.

WPA Salaries Lower Than Average

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP)—Critics who claim that the WPA is wasting taxpayers' money in high salaries, were refuted today by William R. Lawson, Northern California administrator, with figures which showed that the average yearly income of all administrative employees is $290 a year less than the salaries of all other federal employees.

Lawson said a survey of 30,000 persons employed by the WPA showed that only 22 per cent receive $2,000 or more annually, whereas 42 per cent of all other federal employees are in this category. The average is $1,581, he said, against an all-federal average of $1,871.
